

Security Clearance

SC: I will soon be clear to the Security Check Security Standard. It is the most widely held security clearance for posts involving long-term, frequent and uncontrolled access to secret assets with occasional and controlled access to top-secret material. An SC level involves a BC security clearance check (see below), plus checks against the UK criminal and security records (and if appropriate, of overseas countries) and a credit check.

BS: I am cleared to a BPSS (Baseline Personnel Security Standard or "BC" for Basic Security Check). This is evidence that I have no criminal record or unspent convictions under the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974. A BPSS provides a level of assurance to the trustworthiness and integrity of individuals whose work involves access to confidential assets or information.

Reference

Dr. John Wyburn

"Mr. David Elston attended my class in mathematical modelling 2006-2007. From this, his contribution to extracurricular discussions, and his subsequent work on the degree, it is clear he was a fine student. I can vouch for him being a serious worker held in high regard by the staff, and a popular speaker for his fellow students.

Mr. Elston is capable of turning his hand to just about anything, from the creative to the administrative. I have no doubt he will make a lasting impact on his chosen field."

Current Employment

I work as a Change Co-ordinator at Logica supporting various companies IT. All changes are to be managed through their life cycle in various applications to cover scope and costing. Time management when managing changes is essential. I co-ordinate many software related issues and liaise with our service desk and on-site teams as well as Change Managers and Project Managers.
